

Curriculum Vitae – Yasar Srikaya

Prof. Dr. Yaşar Sarıkaya studied Islamic Theology at Ankara University and Oriental and Islamic Studies as well as Pedagogy at Bochum University before earning his doctorate in 2004 by writing about the Ottoman scholar Abū Saʿīd Muḥammad al-Ḥādimī. After working as a schoolteacher for Islamic Studies and holding several lectureships at the University of Frankfurt, he habilitated in 2010 at Istanbul University in Religious Education. In 2011 Prof. Sarıkaya began working as the deputy professor of Islamic Theology and its Didactics at the university of Giessen. Since 2013 he holds the professorship for Islamic Theology and its Didactics.

His research focuses on Islamic religious pedagogy and didactics, the history of Islamic education and thought as well as on the prophet's biography and traditions.

